My Practice Checklist

2021 is the year you will make practicing a daily habit.

At tonebase, we know first-hand how difficult it is to establish and maintain a daily practice routine. That's why we created "My Practice Checklist" – to help you achieve your 2021 musical goals.

To use the checklist, simply print out this page and place it somewhere you will see it every day (for example, hang it on your practice room wall or tape it to your music stand). Then, each time you sit down for a practice session, reward yourself by checking off or shading in that day's box. At the end of the year, send a picture of your filled-in checklist to team@tonebase.co and we'll send a fun gift to congratulate you for your hard work!

Only have 15 minutes one day to fit in a few exercises? That still counts! The purpose of "My Practice Checklist" is to establish and maintain the habit of sitting down with your instrument every day, no matter how much time you are able to devote. Happy practicing!

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31
January
February
March
April
May
June
July
August
September
October
November
December																															